

Ange de Lumiere

Short intro

After graduating first of her year in law at the University of Paris Sud, Ange started a very successful career as a business lawyer. Her first job was with one of the magic law firms in Paris, then she moved onto a multinational telecom operator in the mergers and acquisitions department. Fluent in three languages, she travelled most continents during her fifteen-year career.

in 2005, after moving to the UK, she faced a constructive dismissal case, whilst pregnant and a single mother of two, that drove her into burnout. During her sabbatical in 2004, she started working with angels. Little did she know that the angels were going to have her back and play a key role in her recovery.

In 2007, she trained as a clinical hypnotherapist. The following year, she trained in tarot and mediumship. For the following ten years, she studied psychics to understand intuition to the finest detail, so she could teach entrepreneurs to use their intuition to make smart decisions and work less.
